Good morning Darryl and Tom . Let me introduce myself . I head of asset management for Barfoot and Thompsons Commercial property management division , and we are the property managers for First CBD LTD the owners of 26 Wyndham street . I have checked our files on this matter and have spoken to the landlord . The reason the original lease did not proceed was the uncertainty of whom the landlord was dealing with , in that there was no legal entity to take the lease and a lot of uncertainty as to who were the actual lessee,s . . The deposit monies have refunded in full . As for Tom , sorry but we have not dealt with Tom , as there is no leasing arrangements in place we cannot give access or keys . Tom we understand you may have taken some of your personal belongings to the building , you are free to remove them during business hours today . As for any commercial lease the landlord does require to have a formal lease in place with their tenants, the lease can be to a individual and or a company or partnership with all parties to the agreement clearly identified and full contractual details documented . For this property the landlord does have a policy of requiring a rental bond and or bank guarantees , so Tom any proposal for a 70 day lease is not acceptable to the landlord . I trust this clarifies these matters for you both , thank you and regards
